

Insights - Main gaps

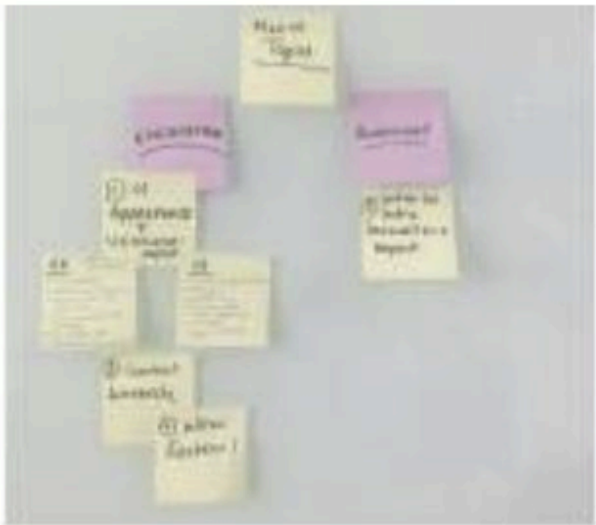

Based on the interviews, usability testing, experience, empathy map and heuristic evaluation.

- 1. Low awareness of the department, with employees unsure of its role and contributions.
- 2. Employees unclear about their involvement in the company’s innovation vision.
- 3. Conflicting perspectives on what innovation means and how it should be approached.
- 4. Innovation perceived as the responsibility of specific, dedicated teams, not open to all employees.
- 5. Employees doubt their own creative potential and question their ability to contribute to innovation.

Existing Portal Issues:

- 1. No direct access point; currently accessible only via email.
- 2. Low footfall and limited user engagement.
- 3. Inconsistent layout and alignment issues affecting user experience.
- 4. False clicks occurring in certain areas of the portal.
- 5. Some links open new portals without clear indication, causing confusion.
- 6. No feedback mechanism for users to provide input on pages.
- 7. Accessibility issues making the portal difficult to navigate for all users.

Areas of intervention

How might we promote navigation within the offering of India Innovation

How might we make UI more appealing to grab user’s attention and communicate the intent of India Innovation

How might we make content engaging enough for Professionals to read (engaging)

How might we give a motive to the user to visit the site (re-engaging)

How might we show the Impact of India Innovation to the professionals to promote Innovation within them.